GREETINGS.

Bosco to-night.
For window glass, all sizes, go to Langs & Schmitt.

Judge Rising of Virginia returned from California yesterday morning.

Judge Boardman left for San Francisco last night on a business trip.

Mrs. H. J. Thays returned yesterday morning from a visit to California.

The Mechanics' Institute opens its annual exhibition in San Francisco to-day.

Signor Bosco will astonish the people with his clever tricks at the Opera House to-night.

Presents will be given away at Signor Bosco's entertainment in the Opera House to-night.

Several cases of typhoid fever are reported in Wadsworth and Virginia City and a few cases in Reno.

George B. Hill, formerly of Reno and Carson, is a candidate for the Assembly in Alturas county, Idaho.

Goto Langs & Schmitt for heating stoves, cook stoves, ranges and house furnishing goods. Largest variety and best values.

Secretary Stoddard's office is now a busy place, all hands are engaged in getting everything in ship-shape for the Fair next week.

The Agricultural Society has made special arrangements for transportation from Truckee to the coming State Fair at one and one-third the regular rate.

Wm. Price's flume at Ophir, which was so badly damaged last winter by the floods is being repaired and will be ready for work within a week.

The White Pine News says the Republican State Convention did a good thing in clearing out the backneyed old crowd of State officials and giving the people a new deal.

Admission Day celebration in San Francisco greatly lessened the crowd in attendance at the Sacramento Fair last week, making a falling off in receipts of between $5,000 and $6,000.

The Carson Tribune thinks the Republican State Central Committee ought to have the Democratic platform printed in pamphlet form and distributed over the State. It would make votes for the Republican ticket.

Miss E. Lake, sister of W. J. Lake, of Reno, arrived here yesterday morning direct from Liverpool, England, on a visit to her brother, whom she had not seen for 20 years.

Southwest News: We have learned something worth knowing to all who are raising chickens—that nests made wholly of eucalyptus leaves will not be troubled with mites. The leaves are said to be as good dried as green.

An old lime kiln place on Carson river, at the terminus of the ferry in 1862, was totally destroyed by fire Monday. It has long been deserted, and the fire was the work of boys. It was one of the oldest buildings in the State.

The News says the race for Sheriff in White Pine county is getting to be a lively one. Already six Republicans are in the field—three on either side—with ominous dark clouds snuffing the battle afar off, and ready to enter the fray at an opportune time.

Carson Tribune: Genos is excited over a runaway marriage. George Brown, of brass band notoriety, stole a march on the old folks Sunay and married Miss Sadie Frey, daughter of Lawrence Frey. The young couple spent their honeymoon in Carson, but yesterday returned to G-osa, where they hope to effect a reconciliation.

To Chautauquans.

Rev. T. E. Sisson, the Chautauqua State Organizer, and Secretary of the Lake Tahoe Association, will speak to all who are interested in the Chautauqua work, and especially desire to see all those who contemplate taking up the work for the coming year Friday evening, September 19th, at the Methodist Church. It promises to be a very interesting educational talk, and enjoyable to every one.

Election Bet.

A Carson sporting man and a Hawthorne citizen, both Democrats, made a wager on Saturday as follows, says the Carson Tribune: The Carson man bet the other $100 that the Democrats would not elect two men on their State ticket this Fall, and then the Hawthorne follower of the torches hoped bet the Carsonites $100 to $50 that the latter would lose his wager.

A Clever Business Man.

Adolf Bail, the Wieland beer man, says the Enterprise of yesterday, is on the Comstock again. Through his personal popularity and the excellence of the beer he is agent for, Mr. Bail is building up an immense trade in Western Nevada. Few saloons of any account can be found without the Wieland Lager either on tap or bottled.

Winters' Horses.

Attached, to yesterday morning's west bound express was an Arms palace horse-car containing Theodora Winters' El Rio Rey, Florence A and eight others of his flyers direct from the East. They were in charge of A. H. Estill, who unloaded them here and sent them to the Fair grounds.

TO PUMP WATER.

A Start Was Made Wednesday by the Pumping Association.

The Enterprise, of Wednesday, says: "The Gold Hill Pumping Association will to-day begin to pump water in the Crown Point incise shaft to the Sutro Tunnel level.

"This day should be a day of congratulation upon the Comstock and of rejoicing, as the resumption of pumping, if successful, means the reclamation of territory for prospecting purposes, fully as extensive as that which we now possess.

"The pumps will be started with compressed air to-day and they will be worked by this means for two or three days to test all the joinings, and to remedy any leakages that may exist, so that when steam is turned into the pipe to operate the pumps, no one will be in the least alarm.

"An agent of Mr. Dow, the contractor of the pumps—a man named Dunn—has arrived, and will assist in the operation of the machinery. Mr. Dow himself, and Mr. Morrow, who is deeply interested in the scheme of pumping water out of the Gold Hill mines, will come up from San Francisco in a few days to witness the work.

"Mr. Dow, the pumping contractor, has agreed to do certain work in this case, and he has entered upon a certain expense to do it. In the event of a failure he will probably be the heaviest loser of the parties to the compact; if successful, the Comstock hole, with its army of workers in the mines, will be the greatest givers—if they give their money; for, as the old Quaker woman said in her sermon, 'ain't what you make, but what you save that makes you rich.'

Trainmen's Grievance.

The S. F. Bulletin of Tuesday says: The Grievance Committee of the Trainmen's Association conferred with General Superintendent J. A. Fillmore of the Southern Pacific, at the Palace Hotel yesterday, but arrived at no definite conclusion, although, with one exception, the company's new schedule of wages is acceptable to the trainmen. The conference lasted from 2:30 p.m. until after 6 o'clock, and then adjourned to meet at Fourth and Townsend streets.

The Grievance Committee again met in the office of General Superintendent Fillmore of the Southern Pacific Company this evening at 10 o'clock, according to adjournment. The new schedule offered by the Southern Pacific Company was fully talked over, but no agreement was reached at 12:30 p.m., when all parties adjourned until 2 p.m.

The following table will show the present wages of the passenger men on the Southern Pacific and the limit the company wish to give:

Employees. Present. Proposed. Conductors.....$110 and $115 $125 Brakemen..... 70 75 Baggage-men..... 75 80

Said R. N. Pratt, Assistant General Superintendent of the Southern Pacific, this afternoon: "The arrangement we have made is on the basis of $10 to $15 advance to passenger men, and from $5 to $10 advance to the freight men, conductors and brakemen. The company is willing to meet the men half way, and we do not anticipate any trouble this afternoon in arranging differences. Up till two years ago we were paying the highest wages in the country to our trainmen. The last trouble we had of this kind was about three years ago and that was amicably arranged."

W. J. Scanlan.

W. J. Scanlan, whose name is the synonym for all that is bright and cheery and winning in Irish comedy, will present his new and successful four-act comedy drama, "Myles Aroon," at McKissick's Opera House on the evening of Monday, September 22d.

In the play Mr. Scanlan has an excellent opportunity to display his ability as a delineator of youthful Irish character, and to sing several taking songs of his own composition: "You and I Love," "My Maggie," "Live My Love, Oh Live," "The Swing song" and in the last act will introduce his widely known and always popular "Peek-a-Boo." "Myles Aroon" differs from the conventional Irish drama with which we are all familiar in that its motive is not dependent upon politics or nationality. Its cue for action is furnished by the theft of a valuable bracelet, of which Myles Aroon is wrongfully accused and the major part of the action is furnished by his efforts at self-vindication, which are eventually successful. The character of Myles gives Mr. Scanlan an excellent opportunity to display all his graces and that he does so delicately and artistically is the best praise that can be given him.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? It is so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Attached, to yesterday morning's west bound express was an Arms palace horse-car containing Theodora Winters' El Rio Rey, Florence A and eight others of his flyers direct from the East. They were in charge of A. H. Estill, who unloaded them here and sent them to the Fair grounds.

THE REDUCTION WORKS WIN.

A Decision That Gives General Satisfaction.

A dispatch was received in this city yesterday from Reno to the effect that the care of the Reno Reduction Works vs. the State of Nevada had been decided in favor of the former.

This case has cost the State several thousand dollars to prosecute, and has put the interested parties on the other side to great expense.

It was also the means of keeping the reduction works in the background for some time after its destruction by fire, as the owners did not consider it worth while to rebuild until a decision in their favor had been reached in the courts. It is probable that they will be built now, as the company is assured of the future well-being of everything connected with the same.—Citizen Appeal.

The Virginia Enterprise now hopes to see this institution properly placed before the public, and for those who seek a legitimate business investment.

The Truckee river can afford a 500-horse power the year round, and many times more than that for nine months in the year.

Within the confines of Nevada there is enough base ore to keep a plant as extensive as the works at Argos, Denver or Salt Lake running steadily. The State of Nevada does not offer any other better proposition in which to invest money than in the building of extensive reduction works, and there is no industry that can be planted in this State that will tend to more speedily populate the State and develop its resources.

It is earnestly to be hoped that capital will be enlisted in this enterprise, and that every precaution will be taken to carry the scheme to success. Mining and milling operations throughout the country are invited to send their agents or come in person to inspect this proposition thoroughly.

The owners of the reduction works do not fear the result of intelligent, scrutinizing investigation.

NEVADA'S POPULATION.

Somewhat Decreased but Still Flourishing.

The Virginia Chronicle says:

According to the revised returns of the last census the population of this State has decreased over one-fourth in the last ten years. The period of greatest decrease, however, was about six years ago when the old Comstock itself had almost decreased out of sight so far as bullion production is concerned. Since then our population has rather more than held its own, with somewhat of small increase. The projected railroads through the southern part of the State will open up a rich mineral region, as well as good agricultural and cattle raising resources and in those respects the old road through this section of the State shows improvement. The mining product is greater and on the increase; the agricultural product, especially during the present year, shows a very decided improvement, with better future prospects and much increased acreage brought into practical use as a factor in present and future production. It will be observed that every acre wrested from the natural state of rugged sage-brush nature and made productive stays so, without any going back. The chances are that during the present decade, ending with the commencement of the year 1900, the resources of Nevada will be far better understood and practically developed, and her population doubled or quadrupled—no being extravagant in the proposition either.

Washoe and Churchill counties show an increase during the last ten years, owing to locality and nature of resources. Roop should be wiped out as a county, it having been attached to Washoe county for judicial and other purposes years ago. Story shows the most remarkable decrease, by reason of its resources being entirely mineral and defined by the Comstock lode. Some grand bonanzas development, such as has been found in past years, with plenty of room for more, may at any time double the population in a month.

The decrease for the past ten years was 17,699 or 28.80 per cent. The following shows the population in three of the leading towns:

1890. 1880.

Carson..... 4,080 4,220

Gold Hill..... 1,072 4,531

Virginia..... 6,357 10,917

These figures are all interesting and furnish much food for reflection. They most certainly show that the chief resources of Nevada are not along their mineral.

The increase in Washoe and Churchill counties surely indicate that.
